THE CONVENTION TO-DAY.—The Republican State Convention meets at Madison to-day to nominate candidates for the various State offices. We do not doubt, from the names of the delegates published, that a general feeling of harmony will prevail, and a ticket be nominated which will be elected this fall by a majority larger than any yet given to our party nominations. Give us good men! that we may be sure of success; and again we say, give us the best men, because we are nearly sure of success, in any event.

MORE FAILURES—EXCITEMENT IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES.—It was currently reported yesterday that the Merchants & Mechanics' Banking Association of New York had gone under, and despatches stated that the day was one of almost unparalleled panic in New York. Among the stocks quoted in the afternoon report, we notice that La Crosse and Milwaukee has gone down to 10, and Milwaukee & Mississippi is quoted at 31.

We heard also last evening that Beebe & Co., of New York, and the Peninsula Bank of Detroit had failed.

A NOTE FROM JUDGE RANDALL.—The Wisconsin of last evening contained the following card from Mr. RANDALL:

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 1, '57.

WM. E. CRAMER—Dear Sir:—I have noticed two or three times in your paper, that you have mentioned, among others, that I am a candidate for Governor. I am not, and have not been a candidate for the nomination for that, or any other office. The use that has been made of my name, has been entirely without any agency of my own. Yours truly,

A. W. RANDALL.

State University at Madison.

The Fall term, in this Institution, will open on Wednesday, the 16th of September. As a safe and economical retreat for young men, while pursuing a course of liberal education, we would recommend our State University to the attention of the citizens of Milwaukee, and of the State.

Charges for tuition, room, and fuel will amount to but $10 per term of thirteen weeks; for board in the University Hall, $2 per week; for washing, 44 per dozen. All charges are payable in advance.

The Missouri Election.

The official figures elect STEWART, regular democrat by 334 majority. On the subject, the St. Louis Democrat says:

To-day we give publication to what are put forth from the City of Jefferson as the official returns of the late gubernatorial election. If we had any doubts before of the gross and glaring frauds which have been practiced in regard to the making up of the returns, ever since eighty counties were heard from, we have none now. The cheat is patent on the face of them, and we have entire confidence that it will be made so clear before the meeting of the General Assembly by a scrutiny thorough and vigilant, of the poll books in each county, as to invalidate the assumption that Stewart has been elected. Correctly and truthfully he has been defeated by best seven hundred votes; officially he is returned with 284 majority. We shall, however, take another occasion to show the specific instances of foul play from De Kalb county down to Ripley and Reynolds counties; it will remain for the public to right such a high handed wrong, and affix the stigma where it justly belongs.

Agricultural and other Statistics of Waukesha County.

The Waukesha Republican contains a table giving the full returns of the Assessors under the law of last winter, requiring them to gather statistics of produce and values. As showing what one county in Wisconsin did in 1856, the table is a very interesting one and we give the totals:

Well done for Waukesha County!

SENATOR SUMNER.—The London correspondent of the Boston Traveller, under date of Aug. 14, writes of the Massachusetts Senator:

"Mr. Sumner has improved constantly in health, and is now able to bear considerable fatigue, though still obliged to be very cautious and carefully to avoid all mental exertion. After some weeks of social enjoyment here, he left London for a short visit to Mr. Cobden at his quiet home in the country, and from there went by way of the Channel Islands to the coast of Normandy, to visit M. de Tocqueville, and will then go to Switzerland."

REPORTED MASSACRE BY THE MORMONS.—The Adrian, (Mo.) Ledger of the 22d says that it is rumored there that Capt. LEVI BLUNT and his company, who left that place for California a few months past, with a drove of cattle, were attacked and massacred by the Mormons, while crossing the plains, near Salt Lake.

PREMIUM LAGER BEER.—Among the prizes of the St. Louis Agricultural and Industrial Society's Fair, which is to commence on the 28th September, is one of twenty dollars for the best lager beer. The names of the judges have not yet transpired.

Here is a chance for some of our makers of lager to achieve a national reputation, if they have good judges in old Kentucky.

Energy of the British War Department.

The London Times, in stating the preparations made for the re-conquest of the Indian empire, thus effectively groups the results of what has been done within three months:

"It takes a long time to rise to the scale of a grand operation. We are a longtime about it, and a still longer time knowing what we are about. By successive efforts of intelligence and resolution, we are at last sending out a great expedition to India; and most of our readers will have to open their eyes, and look abroad, and sum up, and compare, before they can appreciate the magnitude of the work and its place in the world's history. Let them imagine themselves, then, on the beach of the South sea last Saturday afternoon. They would there see ten immense 'clipper' ships, each more than half as large again as the largest ship in Nelson's fleet, towed from their anchorage by immense steamtugs, and each with about a thousand men on board, of whom near nine thousand were soldiers for the re-conquest of our Indian empire. Instead of two such ships, objects of admiration even to those who see three-deckers every day, let us suppose forty, most of them filled with men, a few with materials of war, and then you have an Armada which combines in one thoroughly-venturous spirit of early days the vast ideas of modern times, the hardihood of a rude age and the science of a civilized one. The joint expedition of England and France to the Crimea surpassed everything in ancient or modern times, including even the vast struggle of the later power at the close of the great war. But even that must yield in turn to the grander fact of an army of 30,000 well-trained soldiers, well found and well officered, despatched in the course of three months from England right across the globe, to re-assert our authority on the shores of the Ganges and the central plains of Hindostan."

A NEW BOOK BY COL. BENTON.—The Boston Post says that Col. Benton has written a review of the Dred Scott decision. He takes ground with Judges Curtis and McLean, and against the majority of the Court. The book is now in press.

Who Voted for Cross.

The official proceedings of the Democratic State Convention contain the vote for the candidate for Governor. It is worth while to look over the list and see who voted for his nomination. Every notorious Barstowite in the Convention voted for him:

Sal. Clark voted for Cross!
Harrison C. Hobart voted for Cross!
E. B. Kelsey voted for Cross!
Lees voted for Cross!
A. F. Pratt voted for Cross!
The Woodie voted for Cross!

Every tool of Barstow in the Convention voted for James B. Cross. We agree with the Milwaukee Grad Axe that the election of Cross would be equivalent to delivering the State over to the bloodsuckers that two years ago left the Treasury worse than empty, and fastened, like insatiable leeches, upon the School Land.—Madison Journal.

They Endorsed Know Nothingism.

Mr. Mansfield, of Delavan, Walworth Co., a foreign-born citizen, and contestant of the seat of Mr. Davendorf, in the Democratic State Convention, declared that the latter held his seat through the agency of the Know Nothings, and that if the Convention decided in his (Davendorf's) favor, it would be tantamount to an endorsement of Know Nothingism by the Convention. He also produced a paper asserting the same thing, signed by over ninety of the foreign-born citizens of Delavan. The Convention decided in favor of Davendorf, and endorsed Know Nothingism.

Even the statement of Mansfield, that, as postmaster of Delavan, he had done all in his power to discourage and prevent the circulation of the New York Tribune, and other 'incendiary sheets' of a like character, did not avail him.—Madison Journal.

Death of Rufus W. Griswold.

The illness from which the Rev. Rufus Wilmot Griswold has suffered a number of years terminated in his death about seven o'clock last evening, at his residence in Fourth Avenue in this city. Dr. Griswold was 42 years of age, having been born February 15, 1815, in Rutland Co., Vermont. He was one of the most famous and successful literateurs in the United States. His first hear of him as having been associated with Mr. Greeley in editing the New Yorker, a weekly paper which expired about the year 1841. He was afterwards associated in editing the Brother Jonathan and New World weeklies. In 1842 he removed to Philadelphia, and became the editor of Graham's Monthly Magazine. About the same time he published his "Poets and Poetry of America"—a volume of selections from the various American poets, with biographical and critical notices. In 1844 he published a work compiled on a similar plan and entitled "The Poets and Poetry of England in the Nineteenth Century." In 1847 appeared his selections from "The Prose Writers of America;" in 1848 "The Female Poets of America;" and still later "The Sacred Poets of England and America." These works were all of the same class, the first of them had great success. Besides these compilations, he contributed, in 1847, to a series of biographies entitled "Washington and the Generals of the American Revolution," and "Napoleon and the Marshals of the Empire." He also prepared an appendix to the American edition of Disraeli's "Curiosities of Literature."

Financial Matters in New York.

The severity of the money pressure increases, and has extended outside of Wall street and the Stock Exchange. Denser rates are now paid, directly or indirectly, for accommodation outside of Bank than have been known since last winter. The very best paper is quoted to day at 12 per cent, and good single names, which in ordinary times would be classed undoubted, are going at 15 per cent. Among the Wall street brokers the pressure for money on their own account is less severe than the greatly increased inconvenience of doing busines through Bank. The settlements, from hand to hand, are made so difficult by the new guards imposed on the certification of checks that double commissions are fairly earned in completing the transfers, and the deposits and payments of the day.

BRITISH ART AND FRENCH HORSEFLESH.—The Goodwood Cup has been actually won by a French horse! Monarque has covered himself and France with glory. What next. We shall have a French poodle beating a British Billy in the destruction of rats, and who can say that some Gallic champion may not some day crop the laurels of the Tipton Slasher.

The "Cup" is decorated with two medallions representing scenes from the Midsummer Night's Dream. More appropriate embellishments might have been derived from Richard the Third. One of them would of course have been the battle scene, wherein the desperate usurper makes the celebrated offer of his kingdom for a horse, and the other that in which the Duke of Norfolk appraises Richard of the no less celebrated warning which has been addressed to him with the appellation of "Jockey."

Reverting to the subject of Monarque, we would congratulate that successful animal on the superiority of the destiny which awaits him in his native land to that which is here usually reserved for the "high-mettled racer." Monarque will never go to the hounds; the Parisian love of horseflesh will prevent that; he will have admirers who will be fond of his very remains, and when he dies he will go to M. Isadore de Saint Hilaire and the hippophagists.—Punch.

MR. BRAYMAN RE-ARRESTED.—Evidence having been received here, fastening, as is alleged, upon James O. Brayman the robbery of the Post Office drawer of McNally & Co, some three weeks since, and taking therefrom decoy letters containing counterfeit Jamestown (Indiana) bills, he was re-arrested last evening by Deputy U. S. Marshall Matthews and taken before U. S. Commissioner Moulton, where he waived examination and gave bail in the sum of $5,000, Rev. F. D. Burroughs and O. G. Carter becoming his sureties. He is now held in $10,000, on both charges, to appear on the 7th instant.—Chicago Press.

PASS HIM ROUND.—A young lady of Detroit, going out to California to join her lover, to be married, was grossly swindled in New York City by a couple of runners, a scoundrel who keeps the Northern Railroad Hotel, and accomplice, the clerk of a ticket office. They charged her $180 for what they averred to be a first class ticket, but on reaching the steamer with only $5 in her pocket, the Central America, it was found to be a steerage birth, one of the worst in the vessel. The young lady was weeping bitterly when the ship sailed. Let the property of the West make this thief who keeps this Northern Railroad Hotel notorious.—Ohio Statesman.

CITY MATTERS.

John Jones, intoxicated and disorderly; fined $10.

Peter Gannon, charged with being intoxicated and disorderly; discharged.

Frances J. Myers, charged with being disorderly; found not guilty.

CHARGED WITH ARSON—NOT GUILTY. Michael Merty was arrested on suspicion of having fired a building between East Water and Market streets, in the Seventh Ward, on Sunday morning last. He was examined by the District Attorney before Justice Walworth, and found not guilty. A man was seen running from the direction in which the fire originated, whom it was supposed was Merty, but none of the witnesses could swear that he was the one, and the testimony was altogether of a very unsatisfactory nature.

TARGET EXCURSION.—Company "A," Capt. STARKWEATHER, of the Milwaukee Light Guard, held their Annual Target Excursion yesterday.—The Members of the Corps, with the Staff Officers of the Battalion, the Officers of Company "B," and other invited guests, including Col. HASE, of the American, and Col. EASTMAN, of the News, assembled at the Armory, shortly before noon, and marched down to the Fifth Ward, where they took omnibusses and rode out to GEO. B. BINGHAM'S place, on the south side of the Menom once. Here, ample preparations had been made for their hospitable entertainment by the liberal proprietor, and after a very palatable lunch, the Company marched down to the Menomonee flat, and proceeded to shoot at the target. The mark was a small one, the distance 60 yards, and many of the members novices in shooting muskets. Nevertheless the target was well pierced; the third, or "pony" section particularly distinguishing themselves.

After the firing was over, the company marched back to the premises of Mr. BINGHAM, where a capital dinner awaited them. Ample justice was done to this repast, and after the substantials had been thoroughly discussed, sentiments and speeches succeeded. The company was then re-formed and the result of the target shooting announced; the prizes being awarded to the successful competitors by Mrs. GEO. B. BINGHAM. They were as follows:

5th prize, silver butter dish, Private, DAVID HOUSE.
6th prize, silver salver, Lieut., ROBERT CHANDLER.

The shots made by Privates WALDRON and O. BUTLER would have entitled them to the 2d and 3d prizes, but that they were excluded from competition by reason of being honorary members. After the award of the prizes, the Company and their guests returned to their quarters, highly gratified by their day's entertainment and especially delighted with the kind and ho-pitable welcome extended to them by Mr. GEO. B. BINGHAM and the Ladies of his family. It was, throughout, a day of unalloyed enjoyment; the weather being delightful and everything nice in keeping.

The Turner's Festival.

Spring Street still resounded with music all day yesterday—the dust in the street seemed to enjoy the frolic and rushed about wildly—the brown linen coats and red cravats were abundant—lager flowed in torrents—and our German friends enjoyed themselves immensely. There were less of the nodding plumes and jingling sabres, and less of the pomp and circumstance of war, and less ceremony observed all altogether.

The various exercises of the Turners, men and boys, were witnessed by a vast crowd of people, in and about the grove where the gathering took place.

In the evening, there was a grand Ball, and the distribution of the prizes, there being considerably less trouble in fixing upon the owners of the New York volunteers have it finding an owner for General Jackson's box.

When will our American born people ever get time for a three days holiday or learn to manage one so peaceably!

NORTHWESTERN FRUIT GROWERS ASSOCIATION.—THE NEXT MEETING TO BE IN THIS CITY.—A note to Mr. T. HISLOP, of this city, from Mr. M. L. DUNLAP, President of the N. W. Fruit Growers Association, states that it has been determined to hold the next meeting in this city. The meeting for this year was appointed to be held last year, but on account of the backwardness of our season, the place was changed to Alton, where it is to be held September 29th.

CONCERT BY THE GREAT WESTERN BAND OF CHICAGO.—This fine band, which has discoursed so much excellent music in our city recently, at the opening of the Newhall House, and the Turner's Festival, gives a farewell concert this afternoon at Mehn's Garden, in the 5th Ward, commencing at 3 o'clock. The doors will be open at 2½ P. M., and we do not doubt that the Great Westerns will have a benefit.

THE GOVERNOR'S GUARDS.—The "Governor's Guards," Capt. Haas, left this city yesterday for Milwaukee to attend the "Turner Festival," now being held in Milwaukee. They presented a fine appearance, and we wish them a "heap" of fun and frolicking.—Racine Journal.

The Guards had the fun in good measure, and returned home yesterday all right, looking all the better for the frolic; their drum major keeping tremendous time with his baton, to the great admiration of spectators.

HOTEL BUSINESS.—Increased accomodations for travellers creates business for hotels, as increased travelling facilities enlarge the amount of travel. We hear it said that since the opening of the Newhall House, which is already doing a very large business, the American House, and Walker House, have seen no diminution in their number of guests.

Madison, July 6, 1857.

A Change in Democratic Policy.

Besides the cries of "niggerism" and "Know-Nothingism," which have for a long time formed the staple of "Democratic" argument, we notice a new and highly interesting plank in the late Madison platform. It is not only good-looking, but is smooth—slippery in fact. New planks in platforms are not necessarily strange affairs.—They are highly proper, sometimes; and we think that something new was wanted by the Democracy this time, particularly when it was ascertained which wing controlled the Convention. To nominate a ticket identified with the old Barstow dynasty, which plundered the School Fund and the Treasury, and associated its name in history with Lunatic Asylum Swindle, without any allusion to the subject in the Platform, would scarcely be the fair thing. Hence the new plank, which is in the shape of the following resolution:

Resolved, That we will strive as a party to promote, through the legislative and administrative departments of our State, a careful economy in the expenditure of the public moneys and a judicious application of them to legitimate objects.

No one has ever heard of any repentance on the part of the old Dynasty, of their past sins against the State, or any acknowledgment that they had sinned. So that we must take their past acts as a means of interpreting this resolution.

We commenced this article with an idea that the Democracy intended to reform; but, as we wrote, our eyes fell upon the motto of a leading Hunker press—"The principles of Democracy are eternal"—and we cannot but think now that having plundered the people when in power, that party means to plunder them whenever it has the power. The resolution is a concession to the feelings of some of the less hardened Democrats in the Convention. The leaders mean that they "will strive" as heretofore, to do all of the good things promised.

"National Compensation Emancipation Society."

A Society under the above name has been organized by the Convention lately in session at Cleveland, and the following officers elected:

President—Prof. BENJ. SILLMAN, Sen., L. L. D., Conn.

Vice Presidents—Rev. MARK HOPKINS, D. D., Mass.; Hon. J. B. WILLIAMS, N. Y.; Hon. ERASTUS FAIRBANKS, Vt.; Rev. F. M. PEIRCE, D. D., Mo.; JOHN W. TAUSE, Esq., Delaware.

Recording Secretary—ROBERT SEARS, Esq., New York.

Treasurer—ROBERT LINDLEY MURRAY, Esq., New York.

The object of the Society is stated to be "to promote the extinction of American Slavery by contributing to the compensation of the slaveholders for their losses in the emancipation of their slaves."

The resolutions passed express the following sentiments:

That, in view of the moral, political and commercial relationships by which the Free States have directly or indirectly contributed to the sanction and sustenance of slavery, and of the magnitude of the difficulties involved in its extinction, and also of the immeasurable advantages which would accrue to every section of the country from its removal, it is highly desirable that the people of the North should co-operate, in a generous and brotherly spirit, with the people of the South, and share liberally with them in the expense of putting an end to so great a moral and political an evil as American Slavery.

That Congress be called upon to pay to each State that shall abolish Slavery, $260 for each slave emancipated.

That a small amount of money shall be given to each slave when emancipated.

That no partizan movement is intended, but co-operation of all, North and South, is asked for.

That the undertaking does not involve the recognition of the right of property in man.

That the attempt be made to bring the subject prominently before Congress at the next session.

A GOOD JOKE.—The News has a facetious correspondent at Chicago, who sends it a good hit now and then. His last—equal to anything of old Joe Miller's, and quite surpassing Punch—is in relation to the late Democratic nomicadon in this State, and the coming election. He says:

Wholesome legislation, correction of abuses, and a wise administration are especially needed to secure the prosperity of the State. Let us have these, and in a very few years Wisconsin will stand eminent in the front rank of our great sisterhood of Republics. It is needless to enumerate the reforms required to accomplish such a desirable result. A thorough democratic triumph at this time may be hailed as the harbinger of that will conduce to the dignity, purification and prosperity of the State.

We call that good. The writer really is earnest, too,—so much so that he proposes to come down from Illinois and vote for the democratic ticket in November. Our new watch house presents very comfortable quarters for imported voters.

WHAT THEY MEAN TO DO.—The News says:

Seeing the real intentions of the Republicans, and as the true friends of Democratic principles, and of all those classes who, tired of the old world, have sought homes and happiness in the new, the Democratic party of Wisconsin will "frown indignantly at every attempt to interfere with the existing laws relative to naturalization."

Poor stuff that, to feed the prejudices of foreign-born citizens with. The "indignant frowns" of the democracy are quite wasted. They will be as fatiguing as the effort once made by a lute to look a hole through a shadow.

A NEW MORMON ALPHABET.—In order the better to carry on his infamous doings, Brigham Young has, in connection with his council, devised a new alphabet, composed of extraordinary characters. A font of the type has been cast in St. Louis Specimens of the type are published in the St. Louis Democrat, but are of course unintelligible to Gentiles. The type founders have supplied the Mormons with moulds and other apparatus for re-casting their old metal, so that the Deseret News will probably hereafter be a profound mystery, at least in part, to all but the initiated. The new characters are forty-one in number, and bear a striking resemblance to those of the Ethiopic alphabet.

LUMBERING AT HORICON.—The Horicon Argus has several items in relation to the immense lumbering business done at that place. The boomers of Messrs. RICH & Co. contain acres of logs. During a recent gale a boom broke, letting loose some 900,000 feet of logs, but most of them were collected again.

GERMANS IN NEW YORK.—There are 100,000 Germans in New York city, who have 20 places of worship, fifty schools, and five printing establishments.

LUMBERING IN DUNN COUNTY, WIS.—A correspondent of the Galena Advertiser, writing from Waubeek, Dunn Co., in this State, says that Messrs. WAEBURNE, MORRISON & Co. have at the boom at that place three millions of feet of logs, and of the best quality that have ever been put in. This firm recently made an arrangement, by which Messrs. UNDERHILL & LOCKHART, of Indianapolis, Ind., enterprising and wealthy men, are immediately to put up there a first class steam saw mill, capable of cutting 50,000 feet of lumber per day.

DISEASE AMONG CATTLE.—A disease is said to be making fatal work among the cattle about Utica, N. Y. A correspondent of the Observer says the disease is identical with the one which has, during the past year, carried off in Russia 30,000, Austria 25,500, Gallicia 12,000, and Moravia 9,000 head of cattle; these are the numbers officially reported. This disease is known as the "cattle plague," "rinder-pest," "bloody murrain," &c. It is universally admitted to be highly contagious, and must be carried by persons visiting the sick equally as well as by the diseased animal being brought within a short distance of the healthy.

BRESLIN IN CANADA.—A correspondent of the Cleveland Herald says that Breslin, the Ohio Democratic Treasury defaulter, is in London, Canada, where he is about building him a residence. The people of London would be glad to be rid of his presence.

☞ Among the names mentioned in connection with the seat in the United States Senate to be filled by the Kentucky Legislature, are ex-Secretary Guthrie, ex-Governor Powell, and ex-Speaker Linn Boyd.

A "LITTLE CIRCUMSTANCE" NOTED.—The Chicago Tribune, in noticing the Democratic nominations, says:

There is a little circumstance connected with this nomination that should not be overlooked. A majority of the rank and file of the "democracy" of Wisconsin are foreigners. The latter, confiding in their word, brought forward Dr. Heubschmann, of Milwaukee, as a candidate for Governor. But the natives thought that was carrying the joke too far. They did not mean that sort of affection. It was not intended to give the high offices to foreigners, even though they furnished a majority of the votes. So they quietly shoved the German candidate aside and conferred the honor of a gubernatorial nomination upon a native demagogue of their own stripe. These fellows have a tenderness for foreigners akin to a drayman's love of a horse—to be used as animals of burden, to fetch and carry for their private profit and pleasure.

The Late Southern Commercial Convention.

Barren of results as these Conventions have been thus far, except as allowing frothy politicians to boil over, and furnishing an escape valve for the disunion sentiments which they entertain, the last Convention seems by its aggregate of empty nothings to have disgusted most of those who took part in it. The following reflections from the N. Y. Times, seem very appropriate to the occasion:

We have been long in the habit of boasting ourselves and our boasting has received some sanction from the acquiescence of the rest of the world in our claims to the most advanced position on the great high road of political progress. We are living under a system which Europe only sees dimly in its future. We have solved problems which have puzzled the ablest political philosophers of the Old World. And yet who is there, who, on reading the report of a Southern Commercial Convention, or Governor Wise's comments on the propriety of establishing a new line of steamers between Europe and some Southern port, would believe a word of all this? Who would suppose that these rude imaginings, these crude guesses, these childish wishes, these absurd propositions, these lamentable displays of ignorance of even the elementary laws of barter, these wretched sophisms in reasoning upon the commonest of every day subjects, emanated from men of the same age, and race and nation as the shipowners of New York and the farmers of Massachusetts? Governor Wise, whom one of his Southern admirers has pronounced "the man to represent Virginia and the South in thunder, lightning and in rain," made, two or three months ago, a proposal to a French steamboat company which savors of China rather than of North America. He proposed in his official capacity, as head of the Old Dominion, to a French Company to bring over their silks and wines and brandies, for which they would be sure to find a market, and upon giving a month's notice of their arrival, the Virginians would be sure to have a return cargo waiting them. This was an arrangement precisely of the kind that one might expect from Commissioner Yeh, or the King of Siam, and coming from an American to a Frenchman, was somewhat humiliating for us as a nation. The proceedings of the Southern Conventions, Commercial and Literary, are all on a par with this.

Resolutions to the effect that Charleston ought to be the great Southern seaport, that steamboats ought to run from some Southern port to Europe, that the Governors of the various States be requested to name delegates to meet and see how the thing is to be done, the utmost anxiety on all sides to look at the matter in a patriotic point of view, and the utmost anxiety to prevent looking at it in a commercial point of view—all this is marked by an absurdity which we shall not insult our Northern leaders by exposing.—The desire to have a literature peculiar to the South, and racy of its soil, finds expression in ways equally grotesque. The Conventions which have sought to bring about this most desirable consummation, content themselves with calling on the gods to aid them, and never think of inquiring into the cause of the strange fact that, in a literary and esthetic point of view, the whole territory of the chivalry is, from Dan to Beersheba, utterly barren. With a censorship of the press, of the pulpit and of the tribune, more rigid than has ever existed in Russia, they wonder how it is that native genius won't show itself, and with a ban on the noblest of themes, poets won't sing. Even John Mitchell can devise no better remedy for the existing dearth of "fine frenzy," than lugubrious invocations to the sun. "Wo, thou rising sun!" saith the great patriot, "strike some rock with thy level Eastern ray, and make our Agaciper gush forth, and Hippocrene flow!" Alas, "There is no voice, nor any that answereth." The gods of the South are either talking, or pursuing a journey, or peradventure they sleep. They must be waked somehow, or the chivalry will have to go for a while without a Literature, and without Transatlantic Steam Communication.

Mysteries of the Stock Board.

The Albany Argus is rendering the country no slight service in exposing, with an able and a fearless hand, the mysteries, or rather the sharp practices, of the stock gamblers. A correspondent of the Argus, in the city of New York, makes in a recent communication, the following revelations:

"During the last seventy-seven days the sales of the stock of the Reading railroad amount to 321 623 shares, exactly 97,955 shares more than the entire stock of the company. At par the amount exceeds $16,000,000, and if the average per day (4,177 shares) is kept up, the business of the year in Reading alone will amount to $64,-742 500—about 14,000,000 more than the banking capital of this city. But notwithstanding the amount, and the furor that is kept up on the subject, the stock in the city neither increases nor diminishes; and the innocent or morally inclined citizens, in the shape of interest and commissions, are obliged to fork over between four and five millions of dollars. But such is life, and the swindle enables the fraternity to seize upon any of the stocks on their lists and batter the price to suit their intensions. We must endure it until the common sense of the people or the legislature of the State directs it otherwise. The gambling part of the story is, however, not the worst. The facility for destroying the best stocks of the country is beginning to alarm the people abroad, and if the system is continued we may be forced to recognise another reason for a pressure on the money market.—But more anon.

THE LAKE ERIE STEAMERS.—We are authorized by Capt. Geo. M. Gray, the accomplished representative and courteous agent of the Michigan Southern Railroad Company in this city, to state that the splendid Lake Erie steamers of that line, the Western Metropolis and her superb sisters, are making and will continue to make regular trips as usual.—Chicago Press

DESTRUCTION OF THE DEPOT IN ST. CHARLES.—We learn that a fire occured in St. Charles, Thursday evening last, destroying the Galena & Chicago R. R. Freight and Passenger Depot, with most of its contents. Loss about $2,000—no insurance.—Chi. Trib.

CROW WING, MIN. TERRITORY,
SUNDAY, Aug. 23, '57.

EDITOR SENTINEL—The past week has been one of unusual excitement to the people of this portion of the Territory, in consequence of the hanging, by the people, of three Indians for the murder of a Dutchman on the road, some fifteen miles above here.

The first blow at the man was made by a half breed; he then left the final finish of his victim to his two comrades, who used stones, with which they beat his skull in; they then buried him near Gull Lake. Two squaws, knowing of the sad affair, hastened to inform the nearest whites. Pursuit was at once made to capture them, which was soon effected, and they then were handed over to the Sheriff, to be taken to St. Paul, or Fort Snelling. Before such a step could be accomplished, the whites took the prisoners in charge, and conveyed them to Little Falls. The facts being fully made known, it was decided to hang the three at once. Evening was the time appointed for the carrying into effect the intent of their hasty determination.

A point, on the road side, was selected—a pole was extended from two trees, a farm wagon was driven under it, and on the end they stood, (the three doomed men, who fully acknowledged their guilt). The nooses were made fast to the pole and passed round their necks; the word was given to the driver, and off he drove, all three falling a distance of 18 inches.

Thus three lives passed from time to eternity, almost without a struggle—for a crime caused by the free use of whiskey, in the hands of those who know not its power or influence over the red man.

A call has been made upon the citizens to form into militia companies, for self-protection against such red men as these which have been executed. As I passed through Little Falls yesterday afternoon, a meeting of the citizens was about being organized, to take such steps as were necessary.

After such companies are formed, a call will be made on the proper authorities for equipments, when the formation will be complete.

The report which is in circulation in the St. Paul papers that a battle has taken place between the Sioux and Red Lake Indians, in which some thirty Sioux are reported killed, is incorrect. From information gained by Mr. Allan Morrison, Postmaster here, from a War Chief who came in this morning from Red Lake, the facts are elicited. The Red Lakes started in pursuit of the Sioux, joined by Rainy Lake Indians. Having pursued the Sioux some days, without effect, it was given up.

A Sioux was killed by the pillagers at Lake Pravics, which has given cause to the above excitement. I enclose you the account taken from the Frontier Herald, of the execution of the three natives. C. S. S.

RUFFIANISM AT ST. PAUL.—BRUTAL ASSAULT BY EX-GOVERNOR GORMAN.—Ex-Governor Gorman is a member acting with the Democratic section of the Convention. He was elected from St. Paul. The joint committee appointed to arrange terms by which but one constitution should be proposed to the people, has had several sessions. Among the members of that committee, were Mr. Gorman, and Mr. Wilson, the latter a leading Republican. Mr. Gorman, according to the St. Paul Times, has much delayed the business of the Convention by his abusive temper, and finally assaulted Mr. Wilson. The Times of the 20th says:

Judge Sherburne and Mr. Wilson were engaged in an informal discussion or conversation, Mr. Wilson sitting in a chair with his feet elevated upon a stand or a table, while the Judge walked the floor. Ex-Governor Gorman was reclining on a settee against the west wall, to the right hand of and a little back of where Mr. Wilson was sitting. To an explanation which Mr. Wilson gave the Judge of his proposition, the latter replied, that "he had misunderstood," or misapprehended Mr. Wilson's proposition when it was made in the morning." Governor Gorman hereupon interfered in the conversation to remark with an innuendo—"There was a number of your crowd, Judge, that misunderstood it in the morning." To this Mr. Wilson replied, "I hope some men will always misunderstand me—I always choose my own company." Then said Gorman, raising himself partly up from his recumbent posture, with his cane in his hand, "Do you mean me?" Mr. Wilson immediately replied, "Most certainly, I mean you, Governor." Whereupon Gorman sprang up and with a heavy hold-headed ebony cane unexpectedly struck Mr. Wilson a cowardly and treacherous blow on the head just above the left temple, breaking his cane into pieces with the violence of the blow, and knocking Mr. Wilson and the chair upon which he sat both over on the floor and then while Wilson was almost stunned, followed up his first cowardly attack by striking him several blows with his fist while he was lying upon the floor.

The whole affair was but the work of a few moments of time. Col. Aldrich, as soon as possible caught hold of Gorman to prevent his repeating the blows. Mr. Wilson then quickly obtained his feet, and seizing his own cane, rushed towards Gorman, when the cowardly fellow cried out in great terror, "don't let him hit me—don't let him hit me!"

Some members of the Committee took hold of Wilson, and the disgraceful affray ended, Gorman sneaking out and running home without his hat, ere anybody could turn round and inquire into the particulars which led to his brutal assault. He has not been heard of since.

The provocation for this assault was so insufficient that it leads to the belief that Gorman was seeking for some such opportunity to break up the Committee, and all hope of any compromise, in this brutal way; and that among other purposes, he doubtless had in view the retrieving of his reputation for bravery which he lost when Col. Nobles whipped him so badly on St. Anthony street in June last.

A Narrow Escape of a Dancing Party

The steamer Forest Queen left Detroit on Thursday evening, 27th inst., with 800 dancing excursionists on board, and run up to Belle Isle. About 12 at night she experienced a collision with the schooner Son and Heir, of Toronto, and received a tremendous blow. A passenger on the steamer states as follows:

The uproar and confusion among the dense crowd that filled the forward cabin of the boat, where the dancing was going on, was intense, and, leaving our seat on the stern, we walked forward through the cabin, and entered upon as strong a representation of Pandemonium as we ever expect to witness. The dancing party had been interrupted in the midst of their hilarity by the sudden entrance through the side of the cabin of the vessel's jib boom, at a distance of some twenty feet aft of the forward end. As the boats closed up together, the whole side of the cabin was torn from its place, as far aft as the engine, together with part of the roof. This left the whole party exposed to the open air on the side. The side of the boat between the upper and lower decks was also torn off to nearly the same extent. A large number of the ladies fainted, and those who were not thus employed were busy screaming with all their might. There must have been at least 150 persons in the forward cabin at the time of the entrance of the vessel's jib boom, and the effect of the interruption may be much better imagined than described.

Although no one was severely injured, yet the escape must be considered as almost miraculous The cabin was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the very seats that were occupied by some fifty or sixty persons were torn from their places and rent into pieces by the shock. One lady received some scratches from splinters, and a great many fainted, beyond which no harm was done.

In St. Louis, on Cass Avenue, a day or two ago, two men, Geo. Bronson and Isadore Resseedeck, were arrested, and in searching the house the officers discovered, yesterday's Leader says, secreted jewelry, consisting chiefly of ladies' broaches, lockets, pins, bracelets, &c., sufficient to fill a half bushel basket, and worth probably from $500 to $600, also bundles of new counterfeit bills done up quite professionally, and "ready for trade," to the amount of over $3,600.

These consist of—

5's on the National Bank of Providence, R. I.
5's on the Pittsfield Bank of Pittsfield, Mass.
5's on the Chippewa Bank of Pepin, Wis.
10's on the North Western Bank of Virginia, and 20's on the State Bank of Missouri, Palmyra branch.

A large proportion of these were finely executed, and would deceive any but the most experienced. Of the Chippewa 5's and North Western of Virginia 10's a large number have been put in circulation, and some few of the Missouri 20's.

India—Atrocious Treatment of European Ladies.

The accounts we are receiving of the torture of the European ladies by the mutineers are heart-rending. One letter says: "One of these wretches had part of a lady's dress for his kummerbund—he had seized a lady from Delhi, stripped her, violated, and then murdered her in the most cruel manner, first cutting off her breasts. He said he was sorry he had not an opportunity of doing more than he had done.—Another lady who had hid herself under a bridge, was treated in the same manner, then hacked to pieces, and her mangled remains thrown out on the plain. We found a pair of boots, evidently those of a girl, six or seven years of age, with the feet in them. They had been cut off just above the ancle. We hung many other villains and burned the villages as we came along. A man who witnessed the last massacre in Delhi, where he had gone as a spy, gives a horrid account of it, stating that little children were thrown up in the air and caught on the points of bayonets, or cut at as they were falling with tulwars."

Another adds: "As soon as the mutineers entered Delhi, a great many Englishmen and Englishwomen and children escaped, but numbers could not do, and those who did not escape were subjected to outrage worse than death. The daughter of an English clergyman was driven through the streets of Delhi naked, then subjected to unspeakable outrages by an infuriated soldiery, and afterward cut to pieces with swords. An English lady in the same city was suspended by the feet naked and hacked to pieces.

"In Delhi six European ladies had taken refuge in a room; one of them, very young and beautiful, concealed herself under a sofa. The other five were subjected to outrage by the mutinous soldiery, and then beheaded. The blood trickled under the sofa, and the young female concealed there betrayed herself by uttering a shriek. She was seized and taken to the harem of the King of Delhi.

"No one can tell, none but the Almighty, who has no doubt heard the smothered prayer for mercy, can tell what our sisters especially have gone through. The exquisite nature of the torture they inflict has something awful in it. For instance, they dragged forth a poor woman, enciente, then cut off her breasts, so that they might mock her, then vilely treated her—so vilely that the pen cannot depict the horror—and then, a gasping body, they threw her into the jungle to be treated by beasts and birds of prey more merciful than man.

"They burned one whole family, from grandfather to grandchildren, alive! Others they killed by inches, cutting off the nose, then the ears, then fingers, then toes, etc.; children they killed—little innocent babes."

ENCROACHMENT OF THE CHIPPEWAS.—It is authentically reported that a number of the Chippewa Indians have become very troublesome to the settlers between Cambridge on the Rum River, and Sunrise city. They commenced their depredations about a month since, by a series of petty thieving, but having grown bold in consequence of toleration, they now take everything and anything that comes in their way, asserting their right to do so by an insignificant presentation of the knife and tomehawk. Some three weeks since they entered the cabin on the claim of John P. Owens, when the occupants were out, and carried off most of the provisions therein.—During the past week quite a large band of Indians pitched their tents between the house and barn occupied by James Burns and his family, on the claim of A. O. Smith, Esq., and built their fires within ten paces of a stack of hay, containing ten tons, and when remonstrated with, and requested to remove their fire, they menacingly drew their knives and formed a circle around it.

These Indians claim to be Chippewas, yet Superintendent Cullum, we understand, declines taking any action against them for the reason that he "guesses" they are Snake Indians from Wisconsin, and therefore he has no jurisdiction over them. Others "guess" they are Mill Lac Indians, and many declare them such from well authenticated knowledge, and their opinion is just as good as the "guess" of the Superintendent. The scene of these Indian difficulties is only forty miles from St. Paul, hence it would seem no burthensome sacrifice of official dignity for Mr. Cullum to ascertain the facts.—Minneapolis Democrat.

EXPEDITION AGAINST THE CHIPPEWAS.—The St. Paul Light Cavalry have been called out, by Gov. Medary, to make an excursion about fifty miles north-east of this city, to the neighborhood of Cambridge, when they expected to encounter a host of savages, the picked warriors of the Chippewa tribes, who are reported to have been lately engaged in thieving operations in that vicinity. The company number about thirty, all valiant looking men, but dressed rather gaily for a war party. Their uniform was a red coat and white pants, and their arms, heavy swords and army pistols. The Commissary Department was well supplied with stores for the inner man; and they are likely to have a good time, if they can only manage to keep clear of the Indians. Capt. James Starkey had the command. They were to halt last night at Columbus, about 25 miles distant from St. Paul.—St. Paul Pioneer, 25*ult.*

DESTRUCTION OF INJURIOUS VEGETATION.—According to Prof. Buckman, the product of a single wild-carrot plant, if all its seed germinated and grew unchecked for three years, would be 1,725,000 000 of plants. This fact is fruitful in inferences, and among them are these: 1. It is easy to comprehend how weeds multiply, where but a few plants even exist to stock the ground. 2. It is easy to see that the total extirpation of weeds requires the combined care and diligence of a whole neighborhood. 3. Partial efforts does some good; were it not for this, much of the whole surface of our cleared lands would be covered with worthless vegetation, or worse. 4. It is not probable that any species of weed will become extinct; enough will be kept for seed. 5. A fact like the above, illustrates forcibly the wonderful fecundity of vegetable life. No wonder that coral reefs become green, and islands of fresh verdure begin in the lapse of ages, to dot the blue.

GRANDILOQUENT.—The first paragraph of the new treaty between Persia and the United States is as follows:

The President of the United States of North America, and his Majesty, as exalted as the planet Saturn, the sovereign to whom the sun serves as a standard; whose splendor and magnificence are equal to that of the skies; the sublime sovereign, the monarch, whose armies are as numerous as the stars; whose greatness calls to mind that of Jelisheid; whose magnificence equals that of Darius; the heir of the crown and throne of the Kayanians, the sublime Emperor of all Persia, being, &c., &c.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Ancient Mining in Lake Superior.

Among the proceedings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which closed its session last week at Montreal, we notice the following report, of the contents of a paper read by Col. Chas. Whittlesey, of Cleveland, concerning ancient mining operations in the Lake Superior Country. This subject is one of much general interest, and we subjoin the newspaper report:

Col. Chas. Whittlesey, of Cleveland, spoke on the ancient mining operations of Lake Superior. A remarkable object in the Geography of Lake Superior is point Keweenaw, extending out into the lake some 70 miles, in form like the beak of an eagle. The spine of this peninsula is elevated some five or six hundred feet, composed of copper bearing rock, which extends to an aggregate length of 180 miles. To very ancient periods of time mining was carried on extensively along this range and excavations have been found two miles long, and from 20 to 30 feet deep. This mining was by open cuts like quarries, for the miner had no means of penetrating deeply into the earth, nor means of raising large masses had they so penetrated. The copper found there is well known to exist in its native form, and in masses from minute specimens to those of 500 tons. The implements and tools made by them of this metal were constructed without melting it, by simply beating it into form in its cold state, and there are no signs whatever that they had any idea of melting copper. Their mode of mining was to build fires to soften the rock, and then break out pieces of metal by means of large stone hammers; masses of five or six tons are found from which pieces have been beaten, and the rest left in place.

At the Minnesota mine those miners had gone down in one place 25 feet, and recently, upon opening their excavation, a mass was found, which had been raised upon skids by means of wedges, weighing 6 tons. The opening had been filled up by rubbish as the miners advanced, and thus with the accumulation of centuries in addition it was not easily perceptible. Trees of full growth, covered it when again found, and the proof that this was a coal excavation for mining purposes was afforded by burnt wood, stone hammers and the like. This is a sample of those ancient works scattered along a line of 150 miles. Some few cavities have been found like a room, in the face of rocky bluffs—places where a dozen men could easily work.

The miners' tools were hammers of hard stone, 5 to 25 pounds in weight; wooden shovels of cedar, used for scraping dirt, as shown by the flats to which they are worn; copper implements like the quarryman's gad, to be used as cold chisels, driven by the stone mauls; spear heads, copper knives and chisels, and the like. Upon blocks of timber are still to be seen marks of these axes or chisels.

These tools and marks they have left give a hint towards proving the connection of the people who mined that copper, with the ancient Mexicans; for the copper tools, as depicted in Squire & Davis's work, correspond to those of Lake Superior. Again when Col. W. first saw the cuts upon the timber at the Lake, he saw at once that they must have been made by an instrument like the copper axe of the Ohio mounds. Another fact was noted, that in the copper tools found in the Ohio are seen spots of native silver—a well known fact in relation to Lake copper—and this proves both that the Ohio people of the Mound Epoch did not possess the art of smelting copper—else the silver would have been melted—and that they did derive their copper from the lake. Now, Squier's work seems to prove the Mexican and Ohio race of people the same—the forms of their mounds, pyramids, &c., being the same, leads to this inference—and these acts equally tend to show the identity of the miners of Lake Superior.

In regard to the period when the mining operation was in progress, he said that the timber growing in the excavations is of full size and age. He had counted 290 rings of annual growth. But this does not carry us back as far as we can go with safety. There is plenty of evidence that these ancient trees are of the second growth, at least since the mines were deserted.—This carries us back at least six hundred years.—It must, however, not be forgotten that the same species of tree does not immediately succeed, but others take its place. The miner, of course, must have cut the timber, and thus we may with confidence carry back our date to a thousand or twelve hundred years ago. Again judging from the amount of work done, and their want of facilities, their labor must have extended through a period of five hundred years. From the fact that no remains of houses in that severe climate are found, no roads or other improvements made by permanent inhabitants, the conclusion seems inevitable that the mines were wrought only in Summer, and that by some people who came hither for the purpose, and departed with the approach of Winter. The people, he is of opinion, dwelt in Ohio. The mounds and the mines are of the same age. The Indians of our age could not have been the miners, nor have they any tradition whatever relating to the mines.

Another gentleman describes a pit on Portage Lake, twelve to fifteen feet deep where stilsons, many stone hammers, stones used for sharpening gads, a skid charred by fire, &c., were found.—In this pit a tree with four hundred annual circulars was growing. He concurred fully in Col. W.'s conclusions.
